Nominee Hughes' Train Speeds Through Without Stopping—Harvest Supper Given by Ladies' Aid Society of Methodist Church—Entertainment Follows.

Special Extra No. 326, east bound, carrying Charles E. Hughes and staff to Providence, where Mr. Hughes was booked to speak in infancy hall on Thursday afternoon, passed through town Thursday afternoon at 2:30. The train comprised 12 Pullman cars and carried two large American flags on the rear coach. The special left Hartford at 1 o'clock and was given a clear track over all other trains.

Passenger train No. 320, west bound, received orders to take the siding at Oneco to await the arrival of the nominee's special which was due at that point at 2:51.

Only sixteen were present at the Baltimore station to greet the incoming special. The train passed through without stopping and those who were ready to give the political party a greeting were disappointed when the nominee did not put in an appearance on the platform. The train was traveling at about 50 miles an hour.

Headed by Hughes and John C. Stevens motored to Providence Thursday to hear Charles Evans Hughes speak at infancy hall. Mrs. Joseph Butan, who has returned to Whitman, Mass.

WESTERLY MAN DIES SUDDENLY

Charles W. Willard Expires Thursday Morning—Improvements at Wilcox Park—Seedling Dahlia Named for Mrs. Otis P. Chapman—Visiting Nurse Reengaged.

Charles Wells Willard, one of the best known business men at Westerly died quite suddenly Thursday morning at his home in High street. Though able to be out and attending to business, he complained of severe headaches and on Wednesday his physician was satisfied that Mr. Willard was suffering from an abscess on the brain, and it was planned to have him go to a hospital Thursday.

Mr. Willard was born in Hartford, January 24, 1863, the son of William Francis and Frances Griswold Willard. He was educated in the common and high schools of Hartford. When a young man he came to Westerly and engaged as bookkeeper for James H. Porter, who conducted a general hardware store and tinmith business. The train passed through without stopping and those who were ready to give the political party a greeting were disappointed when the nominee did not put in an appearance on the platform. The train was traveling at about 50 miles an hour.

Headed by Hughes and John C. Stevens motored to Providence Thursday to hear Charles Evans Hughes speak at infancy hall. Mrs. Joseph Butan, who has returned to Whitman, Mass.

ANNUAL HARVEST SUPPER
Precious Popular Entertainment by Members of Methodist Church.

The annual harvest supper given by the Ladies' Aid society of the Baltimore M. E. church in Sprague hall on Wednesday evening, was largely attended.

Supper consisted of cold meats, bean, rolls, brown bread, pumpkin and squash pie and coffee and was served from 6 o'clock to 7:30. Those who acted as waitresses were Mrs. Thomas Hamford, Mrs. Herbert Barnett, Misses Mae Freischer, Ethel Ray, Lillian Eiler and Mrs. J. Sautter.

At the conclusion of the supper a musical and entertainment was given by the members of the Sunshine class of the Baltimore M. E. church. The program follows: Carry Me Back to Old Virginia, vocal solo, Mrs. Thomas Hamford; Good Bye, Good Bye, vocal solo, Mrs. Thomas Hamford; Good Bye, Good Bye, vocal solo, Mrs. Thomas Hamford; Good Bye, Good Bye, vocal solo, Mrs. Thomas Hamford.

The trustees of Wilcox park have authorized important improvements in the park and the work is going forward at the direction of Superintendent Charles P. Coon. The open brook that runs through the center of the park, emptying into the Pawcatuck river, has gradually become a menace to the public health by reason of sewage connections in the Grove avenue section. This brook, which is about three feet wide, with side bank about five feet high, is to be walled for its entire length through the park. The smart pond on the north end of the park and the other near the south section, and which have been the receptacles of filth and mosquito breeding spots, will be filled in and the surface area increased. It is planned to convert the site of the pond at the north end into a children's play ground, as it is a heavily shaded place and grass will not flourish there. Swings and sand boxes will be available for the pleasure of the young children.

The plan of improvement includes a new windmill walk of cement from the Granite Street entrance, to a point near the lake, which connects with the walk to the High Street entrance, and which will be an added public convenience, especially for those who desire to go to or from the railway station from the Granite Street section. The walks now covered with trap rock top dressing in the eastern section of the park, and in due time all the walks in the park will be of concrete construction.

Wilcox park is one of the most beautiful and best kept in the state, and being centrally located its conveniences are appreciated by the public. Like the Memorial Library, the park is amply endowed through the munificence of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wilcox.

Local Laocenes.
The Third District court convenes in Westerly today.

Charles H. Mansfield, of New Haven was a visitor in Westerly, Thursday.

Since the Mansfield trial ended there has been increased business for the movies.

It will be the first time for the senator from Rhode Island to be elected by popular vote.

Westerly is so solidly republican that political spellbinders give the place a wide berth.

Several Westerly politicians heard Candidate Hughes talk in Providence, Thursday afternoon.

Whether liquor license is to prevail in Westerly for two years more, will be decided at the general election November 7.

A new seedling dahlia, exhibited in Newport, has been named Mrs. Otis P. Chapman, in recognition of a Westerly woman, expert in dahlia growing.

Miss Margaret Slattery, whose service has been very satisfactory, has been rehired for another year by the Westerly Visiting Nurse association.

The Rhode Island state officers inspected Rudolph post, Women's Relief corps. After the inspection there was a campfire in Mechanics hall, with Civil War veterans as special guests.

There seems to be more interest in Westerly over the result of the vote for representative in general assembly from the Second district, than in all other political results combined.

The removal of the old fence and the construction of granite sidewalk walks on the Stonington section of the Wilcox bridge, has greatly improved the approach to West Broad street.

The sum of $60 has been subscribed to date for the Mystic firemen who injured at the Watch Hill fire.

The subscribers are: Watch Hill Baptist church company $25, William Segar and company $25, Arthur N. Nash $10.

There is rumor that Worcester parties, the same who own the property in West Broad street, adjoining and facing the bridge, are negotiating for the purchase of the bridge building located on the Westerly section of the bridge and in Main street. This purchase would give continuous ownership from the Walton building in Pawcatuck to the Westerly Textile Company mill, in Westerly.

STONINGTON
Roll Call and Social at Baptist Church—Two Bids for Mail Transfer Contract Received.

There was a general response. Refreshments were served under direction of the social committee.

Breakwater Spray fell her hand being caught in the flywheel of the loom. She was taken to Dr. Arthur A. Chase's office where it was found that a small bone in her wrist was broken. She was later taken to her home.

Hughes' Train Did Not Stop.
A crowd which packed the platform of the railroad station on the Wilcox and Providence division, was sadly disappointed when unable to see Charles Evans Hughes, republican candidate for president. It was known by all here that the prominent man would pass through Plainfield on his way from Hartford, bound for Providence, R. I. and at an early hour in the afternoon people began to gather at the station to welcome him. Practically the whole student body of the Plainfield high school and many prominent men of the place were present. Candidate Hughes' train arrived in Plainfield at about 2:50 and slowed down at the Packard road crossing. As the train approached the station the crowd pushed as near to the track as possible to get a glimpse of the candidate. The train did not stop and continued on towards Providence.

RHEUMATISM

Physician Believes a Genuine Remedy for the Disease Has Been Found.

Rheuma, the wonderful rheumatism remedy sold by Lee & Co. and all druggists, gives quicker and more lasting relief than other remedies costing many times as much.

Rheuma passes the deadly poisonous secretions into the bowels and kidneys, from which they are quickly thrown off in a natural, healthy way.

Read what a reputable physician says about Rheuma: "I have made a most careful investigation of the formula employed in the manufacture of Rheuma, and I heartily recommend it as a remedy for all forms of rheumatism. I find Rheuma far in advance of the methods generally employed in the treatment of rheumatism, and altogether different in composition from the remedies usually prescribed."—Dr. Lyons.

This should give any sufferer from rheumatism confidence to try Rheuma.
